Last Rites Held For Mrs. Pritchard

Funeral Of Kindly Woman One Of The Largest In History Of Sierra Madre

The Congregational Church chancel was banked with beautiful floral pieces Wednesday afternoon when friends and relatives crowded the church to pay their respects at the final rites for Mrs. Arthur O. Pritchard, wife of Rev. O. A. Pritchard, who passed away at her home, 139 West Orange Grove avenue early Monday morning. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Sierra Madre.

Rev. Albert D. Stauffacher of Claremont officiated at the services and paid tribute to the memory of a woman whose kindness and generosity was felt by all who knew her. He dwelt upon her life long love of nature and read some of her favorite poems. Mrs. May Barlow of Los Angeles, formerly of Sierra Madre, sang "Oh, Rest in the Lord" by Mendelssohn and "Oh, Love That Will Not Let Me Go," an old hymn. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Moreland Kortkamp. Dr. Raymond C. Brooks of Los Angeles gave the closing prayer.

Alice Spencer Pritchard was born at Hinsdale, N. H., and was a graduate of Northfield, Mass., seminary at the time when Dwight L. Moody was at its head. In 1894 she married Fred H. Jones of Hinsdale, a nephew of John D. Hooker of Los Angeles, and donor of the 100-inch reflector at the Mt. Wilson observatory. The couple moved to Los Angeles to make their home with Mr. Hooker in 1900 and it was then that Mrs. Pritchard became well acquainted with John Muir who stimulated her love of nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones purchased the estate in Sierra Madre about 25 years ago and made their home here in 1928. Since that time the gardens landscaped by the late Mrs. Pritchard won honorary mention in two contests for informal home gardens.

After the death of Mr. Jones the widow married Rev. Pritchard in 1934 and has been very active in church circles, particularly in work with young people. She was prominent in child welfare work and at one time was vice-president of the Los Angeles Humane Society for Children. Other club activities included the post of corresponding secretary on the board of the District Federation of Woman's clubs when Mrs. R. J. Waters, now of Azusa, was president; membership in the Ebels, Friday Morning and Temple Cleff clubs.

In addition to Rev. Mr. Pritchard, a nephew, Frank A. Spencer, of Sierra Madre, is the only surviving relative.

Palbearers at the funeral were George B. Morgridge, Edwin W. Ward, Jr., Charles W. Kinnear, Edward D. Robertson, Susanosuke Hori and Roy H. Pickett. Interment was at Rosedale cemetery, Los Angeles.

Bode Family Moves To Pasadena; May Return In Fall

Sierra Madre won't be the same old town anymore for a good many of us. The mountains are still here. But Dean Bode has left us—not for long, is the general hope, nor far—far away. But the Dean and his family, for the greater convenience of the younger members of the household, have taken a place in Pasadena and expect to remain there for the Summer and Fall at least.

Apart from the question of convenience, all members of the family will continue to regard Sierra Madre as their home-town. Their eventual return here will depend largely on the possibility of finding a suitable home. Meantime, if their friends in Sierra Madre have their way, the Bodes will continue to be frequent visitors here.

Float Plans To Be Made Monday

One Of Many Subjects At Dinner Meeting Of Business And Professional Folk

Having won a prize in the last one, will Sierra Madre have an entry in the next Tournament of Roses?

This will be one of the many questions discussed at a dinner meeting of the city's business and professional folk to be held in the gardens of the Woman's club Monday evening at 6:30 with charcoal broiled steaks as the piece de resistance.

Plans for a homecoming celebration next month when the vacationists are all back, and for other events calculated to stimulate interest of the citizenry in the community will be considered.

Many reservations have been made for the dinner including a surprising number from persons not identified with the community's business but who are greatly concerned with its welfare. The meeting will adjourn in time for those present to attend a meeting of the planning commission which will continue its zoning sessions at 8 o'clock.

If the city is to have a float and especially if its cost is to be held to a minimum by home grown flowers, the project will have to get underway at once. Seeds for the flowers must go in the ground within the next week or ten days, according to horticulturists.

In a Social Way

COL. HERSEY'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED AT PARTY

MRS. H. B. HERSEY of 575 North Hermosa avenue was hostess at a delightfully gay supper party which she gave in honor of Colonel Hersey on his birthday anniversary last Thursday evening. Eighteen old friends from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and Sierra Madre brought greetings to the Colonel and enjoyed the spirit of informality which was the note of the evening.

Place cards were small albums decorated with half of a tiny unique picture, the other half being given to each guest upon entering the dining room. Places were found by matching pictures. Upon the table cloth which was cleverly made from the classified advertising section of a newspaper were pasted old pictures from the fiftieth anniversary number of a current magazine and each guest was asked to explain the one directly in front of him or her. This occasioned much laughter, for the necessity of explaining the intricacies of a bustle or other appurtenances of fashion of the period of 1887 proved a very humorous situation. Later the small albums were opened and each guest was asked to identify the person who was represented in the picture which each contained. All these were of prominent people and had appeared in the press in recent months. Following dinner all guests were told about their oldest possession, then all joined in a game of skittles.

A total of 4287 books went into circulation during July, 58 per cent of which were fiction.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' Round

YOUNG ladies who drive tiny Austin cars will be nervous about parking them in the dark after an experience one of them had during the barn dance at the Woman's Clubhouse last week. There was a small space between two other cars right at the club entrance when she drove up with a friend. No other make of car in the world could have wiggled into the spot, but she backed in without difficulty and sauntered into the building. Imagine her surprise and indignation when she decided to go home a couple of hours later and found her conveyance waiting for her right at the very door, on the porch. . . . Pranksters imbued with the spirit of Halloween which prevailed at the dance, had picked her car up, carried it across the sidewalk, over the clubhouse lawn, up the steps and deposited it on the porch. Suspicion fell on a group of young Pasadenaans and Officer "Jim" Heasley wasn't impressed with their protestations of innocence. When he ordered several of them to "beat it out of town" three cars pulled out hastily and headed west. "I don't know why they all beat it," said Heasley, "for they couldn't all have been guilty. . . . three or four of them could have done the job."

Carl Namur returned from a day's fishing expedition at Catalina Tuesday with a blazing face, one baby baracuda and an announcement that it was so hot on the island that the fish had gone off on a vacation. "They probably thought," said Carl, "that this little fellow I caught was too small to go along and left him at home. I didn't get another strike all day, though I have fished many times at almost the identical spot and pulled them in almost as fast as I could cast. . . . I didn't think the sun could get as hot as it was on the east side of the island. There was a good breeze on the west side and I nearly froze coming across on the boat in the evening."

Five weeks from Monday young Sierra Madreans will be trekking back to school. The vacation that seemed so long in June is now more than half gone so it behooves the school-going generation to make the most of the next five weeks. . . . Scenes of beauty amid indescribable horror were witnessed by Mrs. Wilbur Judd, niece of Miss Laura Hawthorne, in Shanghai last fall when the Japanese and Chinese forces concentrated in the vicinity of the International Settlement. Dark evening skies gorgeously colored in prismatic effect by bursting bombs gave little evidence of the carnage and bloodshed beneath. Leaving a movie one evening Mrs. Judd said the sky with its circles of color was beautiful to see if one could forget the death-dealing instruments of war which brought them into being. . . . Captain E. G. Everett, the genial gentleman who came up from Long Beach about once a week to attend the Kiwanis meetings, had a sad story to tell us, having to do with the fickleness of Madame Luck and automobiles of the particular make he drives. It seems that the first two Grams he drove were involved in accidents of one kind or another, but the shiny black one with the Florida license seen around Sierra Madre on Tuesdays was running along fine until about two weeks ago when it slipped from its parking space on a steep grade near the Wistaria Vine Gardens and headed, driverless, for an adjoining lot. A scratched body, bent fender and two flat tires were the result. Captain and Mrs. Everett left this week on an extended trip which will ultimately take them to Minneapolis. There the Captain will attend a reunion of the 13th Minnesota volunteers 40th anniversary in the fall of Manila. . . . and then to the east coast and eventually to Florida again. . . . Ambitious youngsters under the spreading pepper tree beside the P.E. station have found a way to turn spare time into profit. Like the little bootblacks in cities they carry a shoe shining kit and do their best to persuade the gentlemen gathered under the tree of the dire need for a shine. The smallest boy carries the kit and gives the shines while the larger ones stand around eating ice cream cones. . . . eating up the profits most likely. . . . Buxom ladies in shorts, prespiring profusely, do their shopping in the early morning. Elderly women, completely covered, even to gloves, and looking cool as a cucumber, do their shopping at the same time. It doesn't make sense, but it is so. Sisters belonging to religious orders have the same "cool" look in their immaculate black and white habits.

By One of the Boys

IT WAS a lackadaisical looking bunch of firemen that returned from a deep sea fishing trip on Sunday. They all declared that they had a great time and most of them said "You should have been along," but it was very obvious that they all went to bed very early that evening. The only one that caught enough fish to measure was Gordon McMillan and he has certainly been telling the world about it ever since. The ocean fish to him was so much weight that it is doubtful if he ever will enjoy the minnows from back of the dam again. Joe Swanson lost the biggest fish, besides losing his shirt. Louis Karger brought home a nice big mackerel and when a nice looking girl asked him for it, he went home without a fish—the poor fish. Bob Babbitt was having a wonderful time until the edge of the boat began to meet the sky. Then Bob thought of home sweet home and a place to put his head. Vern Udell has always been too busy to think much about fishing, but he did finally agree to take in this trip. When a great big bar-bacuda got on his line, he called for Hays to help him. He said that he was afraid it would bite him if he got too close to it. All that went out to sea, returned with a nice red face and a tired look.All Star Cast Sings o'clock they started out in the of fish, but, thinking they could do better farther out, went on beyond that towards Catalina, and didn't have any luck at all.

Some of the fishermen caught baracuda, nice size halibut and Unless the Lord had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.—Ps. xciv.17.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

CLOSE on to a third of all the people of the world—those now living; and untold myriads who've passed over—prayerfully influenced by what he taught. Buddha—the Lord Gautama. About whom Sir Edwin Arnold wrote The Light of Asia. We'd read that book as a boy. Adolescent—and the whole world one splendid, plant dream. Except that at the time we were suffering intensely from a physical ill. But with The Light of Asia to lull us...

The purdah hung crimson and blue, with brodered threads of gold, Across a portal carved in sandalwood...

WELL, this week, a friend gave us a copy of The Light of Asia. We'll say this. Its glory hasn't faded. The old spell enveloped us again every time we opened it. So that we loved it—loved Lord Buddha—loved all the people of the world who could ever have felt a love for HIM. Somewhat after the manner of St. Paul when he wrote: "There can be neither Jew nor Greek; there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female; for ye all are one." Here was Japan, Korea, China, Mongolia, Tibet, Siam, Burma, Ceylon, and India, for Gautama's influence is still deep in that land of his birth.

WE looked up one passage ineffaceable in our own long life. There where the Buddha teaches us divinely that the earth and heaven are rapt, angels, princes, untouchables. And then... "the birds and beasts and creeping things—'tis writ—had sense of Buddha's vast embracing love and took the promise of his piteous speech... so that their lives touched meekly at the skirts of brotherhood with man... and in mute gladness knew their bondage broke—whilst Buddha spoke." Reminding one of St. Francis preaching to the birds, the wolf, to flowers and lepers. Reminding one also of that passage from Isaiah: "And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb..."

AS for Buddha and St. Francis, there has long been in Japan, it appears, a Buddhist-Francisism. We've been reading about it in a little book by Dr. Anesaki, a professor in the Imperial University of Tokyo and in our own Harvard. He was lecturing here in California, not so many years ago, under the auspices of the Earl Foundation. He's telling us of the founder of this Japanese Francisism—movement, a man named Tenko Nishida. Buddhist born and reared. A mystic who tried to be a contractor. But whose visions had their way with him. Nishida's present dream—and he has many followers—is to reorganize the whole industrial and spiritual life of Japan along the lines of the Francisian Tertiary Order. Why not? "Heaven and earth maintain and streams, all are Buddha Himself," so Nishida says. Reminiscent of the Psalmist: "The sea is His and He made it..."

BUT what really started us out along this line of thought was another book. Also given us this week. Perhaps because of something we'd written in this column. A book curiously and most intimately related to what we've just been saying about The Light of Asia, and Tenko Nishida, and St. Francis. Written by Dr. T. Takahashi, a Research Professor of the India Academy of America, at New York, together with the Reverend Junjo Izumida, Abbot of the Buddhist Mission in North

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERN

A Time-Tested Power

When did our Courts first declare acts unconstitutional?

Before the American Revolution, the colonies were governed under English grants and charters or constitutions, and nearly 400 acts of colonial legislatures in conflict with these constitutions were declared void.

Similarly, courts declared void the acts of colonial legislatures in conflict with colonial fundamental laws or constitutions.

There was over a century of experience under this procedure when the Constitutional Convention met. Its minutes show why the delegates favored this method against other alternatives and why, in our Constitution (Article III), they vested this power in our courts.

The first Congress (in which sat many delegates to the Constitutional Convention and the state conventions that ratified our Constitution) passed and President Washington signed the Federal Judiciary Act which specifically recognizes the power of the Supreme Court to review acts of Congress.

In President Washington's first term Congress passed a pension law which several federal circuit courts stated was in conflict with our Constitution. Congress thereupon changed the law.

In Jefferson's administration, Chief Justice Marshall, speaking for a unanimous Supreme Court, declared another act of Congress unconstitutional.

constitutional because in conflict with our Constitution.

This time-tested power of the courts is our protection against unwarranted acts by the government. It originated more than a century before our Constitution, was exercised in colonial times, is specifically granted in our Constitution, was approved by the states in ratifying the Constitution and was specifically recognized by the first Congress.

Is it possible we have so much crime because we are sending too many men to prison? This startling question came last week from no soft-hearted sentimentalist, but from Sanford Bates, veteran director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. We send six times as many men to prison as England does, but is that making us any freer of crime? The nationally known prison director gave, as one basis for these new and searching questions, the fact that the number of prison commitments doubled between 1910 and 1935. Yet in that same period, the rate of recidivism (becoming confirmed criminals) showed an increase. These are disquieting truths.

Exemptions allowed on taxable property in Los Angeles county this year total $76,038,960, as compared with $72,828,000 last year. In the assessor's annual report 67,601 veterans are listed as having been granted exemption amounting to $42,182,140. Last year veterans were allowed $39,902,670. Next largest item in this year's exemptions is churches, with $17,147,040 in exemptions.

California produces people that get results. We like to think Andy Gonzales of San Jacinto, who blinked briefly in the spotlight of attention a few days ago, had that tradition in mind when he applied himself to the solution of a baffling problem. It wasn't a world-shaking puzzle but it was sufficient to defy the efforts of seven men, a horse, a block and tackle, and many yards of heavy rope. His cow, Flossie, had gotten herself hopelessly mired in the quicksands of the San Diego River. Neither man, beast, nor cable, could budge her. So Andy bent over and bit her.

America and long a resident of Los Angeles. A book about the Shinran Sect, in what is called the Mahayana Buddhism—that is, the Buddhism of "the Great Vehicle," the one prevalent in Japan.

THIS was that Buddhism which became, truly, "The Light of Asia"—back in the time of the Christ—bringing a sort of unity to all the Asiatic millions from the islands fringing the South to farthest Siberia, and from Persia to Japan; spreading poetry and art and a philosophy of life over a world where before there'd been no Light. And then, along in the Thirteenth Century—just when, over there in far-off Europe, seraphic Francis was likewise working a great reform in formal religion and human hearts—there arose this Oriental saint, Shinran, with a similar inspiration and a parallel destiny: Shinran—Shinran Shonin—as one might say, Shinran the Good Shepherd.

A VALUABLE book. To be found at the Higashi Houn-ganji Temple, down in Mott Street; and you may be granted the added grace of meeting there our venerable friend, the Abbot Izumida, in person. We mention this, because—well, because. How do we judge athletes? Not by the times they fall to set a mark; but by the world records they make—by their superlative best. So should we all be judged. God Himself—and His Nations. And this is a Japanese superlative best. Shinranism. "There can be neither Jew nor Greek..."

Case and Comment

By Charles B. Showalter

(Editor's Note: The opinions expressed herein are those of Mr. Showalter and do not necessarily reflect the attitude or opinions of THE NEWS.)

ANOTHER New Deal scheme of very considerable importance to every citizen is being pushed rapidly to a conclusion—the socialization of medicine under Federal control. This scheme was originally conceived and sponsored by Josephine Roache of Colorado, Kate Greenway of Arizona and Mrs. Roosevelt.

The plan is fashioned after the medical practice of Soviet Russia from whence they imported the idea. Under the guise of promoting the public health and bringing medical attention to the underprivileged, they propose to bring all medical service under Federal control. They have agriculture and industry eating out of their hands and voting their ticket, why not the professions?

Under this new scheme, which is a little too raw to spring all at once, the physician will be in the employ of the government, on the New Deal pay roll, at such compensation as the President or his agents may direct. Medical service will be free to the "forgotten man" and the heavy voter. If you have a toothache, or eat too many green apples, all you need do is get the endorsement of the precinct committeeman of the New Deal party, who will send you to the New Deal doctor and he will fix you up—if your party affiliation is right.

No one knows what this plan would cost. There have been no estimates. But a committee appointed by the President to study the needs of the so-called needy class has recommended that $850,000,000 be immediately made available to establish clinics and build hospitals. Please note, only $850,000,000 to start with. A mere trifle, the way we count money these days.

This would just be a duplication of the free clinics and hospitals already available to those in need of medical service. It should be remembered that the burden of support of these free clinics and county and city hospitals throughout the land is on the taxpayer, and also the billions to be spent by the New Deal on socialized medicine will be loaded onto the same taxpayer.

And it is also true that the medical profession contributes uncounted millions of dollars in free service to those unable to pay. No reputable physician will refuse a call because the client is without funds.

We are personally acquainted with one famous surgeon who ordinarily charges large fees, yet we know that in one three-month period he performed 37 major operations without cost to the patients. The medical profession, let alone its private practice will fulfill its mission. Its members will leave nothing undone in the way of scientific research and discovery. And they will, as they have always done, continue to minister, with or without pay.

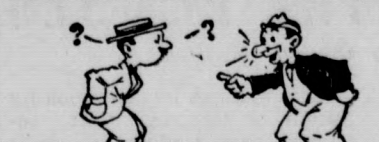

Bureaucratic control in the field of medicine will freeze the profession at its status quo. There will be no further advance. When the skilled are eliminated by age and death your life and health will be at the mercy of the political hack. You may not call the physician whom you know and love and trust, but you will take your district guardian of the public health who owes his position to party regularity and not to medical skill and efficiency. And why should he worry about results? He's on the payroll!

It isn't going to be very funny when your appendicitis and your hydrophobia go into politics. And that is just what it amounts to. That the New Deal would use the same technique in the field of medicine that is being used in relief, in WPA, in business, in agriculture and in politics no one can question.

It is a device to extend the power of the administration, to control more votes, to perpetuate the present control of the New Deal machine.

Who remembers when the women jumped when the men grumbled at the dinner table.

Need Tons Of Paper To Print Ballots For The Election

An order for $17,058 worth of paper with which to make up Los Angeles county's 1,400,000 ballots for the August 30 primary election has been approved by the board of supervisors.

There will be 756 different kinds of ballots this year. There are nine parties since the advent of the new Townsend party, and each party has $4 different forms.

Printing costs will run between $350,000 and $400,000, including ballots, cards, notices of polling places and miscellaneous election matter, including absentee ballots.

Nine different colors of paper are being purchased, a different color for each political party. Russian-colored paper has been specified for the Democratic ballots and the order calls for 1000 reams. Republicans will vote on primrose-colored paper, requiring an estimated 600 reams.

Other parties and their ballot colors are: Socialist, cafe; Prohibition, pink; Progressive, green; Commonwealth, salmon; Communist, blue; Townsend, yellow, and non-partisan, cream.

METHUSELAH SERIES IS NEARING END

A gigantic egg halving to show George Bernard Shaw's ultimate plan for civilization in 31,920 A.D., will come as the climaxing event in the current Midsummer Drama Festival at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

The "egg theory," expounded in the third and final part of "Back to Methuselah," slated for the Playhouse boards August 8-13, brings new-borns into the world at the age of 47 years and they cannot die except by rare accident. These eggs mature in 15 months. The second part of "Back to Methuselah," now current at Pasadena, completes its run on Saturday, August 6.

3 skin-types of Cleansing Creams

CREAM 683

A dry-skin cleanser. Rich and lubricating. Particularly recommended for skin easily dried by sun, wind and beach dust. Soothes while it cleanses...helps banish dry flakiness.

SALON COLD CREAM

For medium-dry skin. A cool, cleansing cream that softens...as it freshens...as it cleanses! So bland and fluffy, it's pleasant to use even in hot, sticky weather!

LIQUEFYING CLEANSING CREAM

For normal or oily skin. Quickly removes dust, make-up, dirt, and thoroughly! Discourages enlarged pores. Very light and delicate...appreciated by summer-weathered skins!

Householders May Save Preparing Now For Winter

Sierra Madre householders are urged to prepare for the cold months by taking advantage now of liberal mid-summer discounts being offered on unit or floor furnaces by Southern California gas appliance dealers. During August a discount of as much as 10 per cent will be allowed on permanently installed heating equipment, according to Justine M. Kennedy, manager of Southern Counties Gas Company.

"The time to prepare for adequate winter heating is in the summer months," Mr. Kennedy declares. "A gas furnace purchased today can be installed while you are on your vacation, and when the first cold snap comes, you will be ready for it. Federal Housing Administration modernization loans are available under Title 1 of the act. Gas companies, manufacturers and distributors of gas furnaces are all cooperating in the summer heating campaign."

20 Local Fishermen Raid Waters Of Santa Monica Bay

Twenty stalwart Sierra Madreans left the city during the wee hours Sunday morning and headed toward Santa Monica to do some deep sea fishing. At 7 o'clock they started out in the waters in the Santa Monica region and ran into a nice school of fish, but, thinking they could do better farther out, went on beyond that towards Catalina, and didn't have any luck at all. Some of the fishermen caught barracuda, nice size halibut and Lee Hibbs is reported to have believed at one time he had a swordfish or whale on his line. Although the fish were not plentiful those that were caught were a good size.

Members of the Sierra Madre fire department in the group were Gordon McMillan, Lee Hibbs, Joe Swanson, Vern Udell, Bob Newberry, Steven Petzel, Marion Hays, Louie Karger, Bob Babbitt and Frank Lovell. Others in the party were Louis Zeigler, Bill Lees, Carl Hansen, Vint Hoegge, Norman Jensen, Ray Hudson, Lou Sparks, Ray Duran.
